

Soviet girls, collective farmers of a village somewhere in Russia, who joined Guerillas.
Sept. 19, 1941.

https://www.alamy.com/stock-photo-the-soviet-russian-women-guerrillas-armed-with-rifles-and-bayonets-78824078.html?mid=41152&siteID=MRu_ISar6sQ-QvAlffqbHpcUGiytUTumYA&utm_source=LS&utm_medium=affiliate&utm_content=US

Soviet women were instrumental in winning the Great Patriotic War. They worked in the factories to produce materials necessary for the war effort and some joined the Red Army. Women resisted invading German troops by forming small guerilla groups to defend their rural towns. They risked torture and execution to defend themselves and their communities.